Standard / Advanced (15 questions)

1. Identify the figurative device in this sentence, given that it ALSO contains alliteration: "The brave little boat battled bravely against the roaring waves."

2. What does the idiom "to add insult to injury" mean, and why is it also a kind of exaggeration (hyperbole) of the literal idea of injury?

3. Identify the figurative device in: "The fire's fingers crept up the curtains," giving the single best overall label for a phrase that gives human body parts AND a human action to a non-human thing.

4. A simile says one thing but a metaphor states the same comparison more directly. Rewrite the simile "The children were as loud as a thunderstorm" as a metaphor.

5. The idiom "kill two birds with one stone" is often misunderstood literally. Explain its real meaning, then explain why someone unfamiliar with idioms might misinterpret the sentence "Let's kill two birds with one stone and visit Grandma on the way to the shop."

6. Read: "The old house sighed as the wind pushed through its broken windows, and its shutters clattered like chattering teeth." Identify all THREE figurative devices present and explain each.

7. Select ALL the idioms below that mean 'to be extremely busy'. A) up to your eyes B) have your hands full C) twiddle your thumbs D) run off your feet E) at a loose end

8. Explain, using an example, how onomatopoeia and alliteration can both appear in the same sentence without being the same device.

9. Which sentence best demonstrates personification rather than a simile, even though both describe the moon? A) "The moon glowed like a silver coin." B) "The moon watched over the sleeping village." C) "The moon was as bright as a torch." D) "The moon shone brightly in the clear sky." E) "The moon looked like a pale balloon."
