Bramble's Garden Escape

Year 4 — 11+ Lesson Worksheet (PassFrame Tuition)

Comprehension | Fiction

Extract — read it carefully before answering

Bramble was not supposed to leave the hedge. His mother had told him so at least a hundred times. But the vegetable garden on the other side of the fence smelled so wonderfully of carrots that Bramble simply could not resist.

He squeezed under the gate, his heart thumping like a little drum, and crept between the rows of lettuces. The cabbages stood in neat green rows, as round and proud as little soldiers. Bramble nibbled one leaf, then another, and soon his whiskers were dusted with soil.

Suddenly, a door banged. Old Mr Thistlewood the gardener came stomping down the path, waving his hat and shouting, 'Out! Out, you thief!'

Bramble's ears shot straight up. He bolted through the cabbages, past the water barrel, and dived under the gate just as Mr Thistlewood's boot came down with a thud behind him. He did not stop running until he was safely back in the hedge, gasping for breath.

That night, curled up with his brothers and sisters, Bramble's mother asked why his whiskers smelled of cabbage.

'I was just exploring,' he mumbled sleepily. His mother only sighed. She had a feeling this would not be the last time Bramble went looking for adventure in Mr Thistlewood's garden.
